

Curriculum vitae

Personal Information:

Name: Awon Musa Alsharari Almajali

Position: Assistant Professor, Department of Finance and Banking, Mutah University, Jordan.

Marital Status: Married

Emails: awon.almajali@mutah.edu.jo

awon.almajali@alumni.brunel.ac.uk

Academic qualifications:

- 1- PhD in Financial Econometrics, March 2023, Brunel University London, UK (Thesis Title: The Interconnectedness Between Financial Futures Markets, Commodities, and the Macroeconomy: Empirical Evidence from a Time-varying Approach.)
- 2- MSc. in Finance and Investment, September 2018, Brunel University London, UK.
- 3- Bachelor in Finance and Banking, January 2015, Mutah University, Jordan.

Employment:

- January 2022- December 2022: Lecturer, Brunel Pathway College| London, UK.
- September 2021 - September 2022: Senior Research Assistant, Brunel University London | London, UK.
- September 2019 – December 2022: Graduate Teaching Assistant, Brunel University London | London, UK.
- Customer services Housing Bank for Trade and Finance | Al-Karak, Jordan.

Research Interests:

- International Finance.
- Monetary and Financial Economics.
- Macroeconomics.
- Financial Crises and Contagion.
- Financial Econometrics and forecasting.

Training Courses:

- A beginner's guide to MatLab, Brunel University London, 2019.
- MATLAB Programming basics, Brunel University London, 2020.
- Publishing in academic journals: Elsevier Author Workshop and Scopus Training, Brunel University London, 2019.
- Author workshop and Scopus training, Brunel University London, 2019.
- Statistics "R", Brunel University London, 2019.
- Introduction to Teaching and Supporting Learning For Doctoral Researcher, Brunel University London, 2019.
- Citation searching: An introduction, Brunel University London, 2019.
- An introduction to finding data and statistics, Brunel University London, 2020.
- Introduction to Learning & Teaching: Initial training for Demonstrators and GTAs, Brunel University London, 2022.
- How to get published in a scholarly journal: Top Tips from a Publisher, Brunel University London, 2022.

Skills:

- Analysis Software such as RStudio, Eviews, STATA, and MATLAB.
- Use of financial resources such as Bloomberg and Datastream
- Use of Latex language.
- Use of Microsoft Office and its applications miscellaneous.

List of Publications:

- Alqaralleh, H., Almajali, A. and Canepa, A., 2024. Navigating Energy Market Cycles: Insights from a Comprehensive Analysis. International Journal of Energy Economics and Policy, 14(5), pp.35-48.
- Caporale, G.M., Spagnolo, N. and Almajali, A., 2023. Connectedness between fossil and renewable energy stock indices: The impact of the COP policies. Economic Modelling, p.106273.
- Caporale, G.M., Spagnolo, N. and Almajali, A., 2022. Fossil and Renewable Energy Stock Indices: Connectedness and the COP Meetings.

Conferences:

- Almajali, A., and Kartsaklas, A., (2022). Time-varying connectedness between the US futures markets and the macroeconomy. The 16th International Conference on Computational and Financial Econometrics (CFE 2022). King's College London, London, 17-19 December.

Teaching Activities:

- Financial Markets.
- Statistics.
- Financial Mathematics.

Languages:

- Arabic: Native.
- English: Fluent.

References:

- Dr. Aris Kartsaklas

Senior Lecturer in Economics & Finance, Brunel University London, UK.

Email: aris.kartsaklas@brunel.ac.uk

Tel: +44 (0)1895 267259

- Professor Guglielmo Maria Caporale

Divisional Lead / Professor - Economics & Econometrics, Brunel University London, UK.

Email: guglielmo-maria.caporale@brunel.ac.uk

Tel: +44 (0)1895 266713

- Dr. Nicola Spagnolo

Reader in Economics & Finance, Brunel University London, UK.

Email: nicola.spagnolo@brunel.ac.uk

Tel: +44 (0)1895 266636

